ALASKA GIVEN SENATE'S O.K.

49th State Awaits Signature Of Ike

... IT WOULD PUSH U.S. 55 MILES FROM RED SIBERIA

Washington (P) — The Senate voted 64-20 Monday night to make Alaska the 49th state.

President Eisenhower has long advocated statehood for the territory. If he signs the bill, as expected, and Alaska accepts its terms, the new state might join the union by winter or early fall — in time for its two senators and lone House member to take their seats in Congress in January.

This accomplished, the United States will have extended its boundaries to within 55 miles of Russia.

Proponents of statehood had sought since 1916 to get the territory admitted to the union.

Bought From Russia

The territory was acquired by the United States in 1867 from Russia for $7,200,000. The purchase was made through the determined energy of Secretary of State William H. Seward and for many years afterward was known as "Seward's Folly," or Seward's Icebox.

Passage of the legislation was greeted with exuberance by Alaskans in Washington.

Gov. Mike Stepovich said: "Thank God for everything that's happened here. We will show the people of the United States they have not made a mistake."

Delegate E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, the Democrat who represents Alaska in the House of Representatives, said: "This is a great day. This is the greatest day in Alaska's history. The Congress has acted wisely and in the national interest. We of Alaska will justify what has been done this day — we shall make there a state mighty in every way."

Approval Predicted

Bartlett predicted Alaskans will accept terms of statehood by possibly as much as 8-1 margins.

Before Alaska could become a state, its residents would have to cast separate ballots endorsing immediate statehood, accepting boundaries of the state and approving a provision empowering the president to make future national defense withdrawals in certain areas. Rejection of any of the three propositions would defeat statehood.

In other comments, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Cal) declared that "Alaska is destined to become one of the great states of the American union."

But, Knowland said, "we've done only half the job tonight."

Hawaii Next?

He said that both of the major parties had pledged statehood also for Hawaii, and urged that the Senate Democratic leadership quickly bring up the bill to grant statehood for the islands.

Extension of statehood to Alaska would add to the United States an area roughly one-fifth size of the existing 48 states and 2½ times that of Texas.

Rathbun To Head State Elks Assn.

Graden Rathbun of Lincoln has been named president of the Nebraska Elks Association, effective July 10.

Rathbun, who had been first vice president, was elevated to the top position following the resignation of Clyde E. Burdick, of Ainsworth, as president.

Burdick resigned to accept an appointment in Ethiopia.

Other vice presidents elected at the annual convention advanced one station. They are: Stan Danekas of Theford (Broken Bow Lodge), Bernard Delay, Norfolk and Bernard Dougherty, Scottsbluff. A new fourth vice president will be selected by delegates attending the fall conference.

The association is composed of the 22 Nebraska Elks lodges.

Rathbun, who lives at 1735 South 47th St., is a past exalted ruler of Lincoln Elks Lodge 80.

Million Will Be Asked

'How Silly Can This Get?' Asks Hagerty

Washington (P) — Business promoter John Fox casually announced Monday he is starting a million dollar libel suit against presidential assistant Sherman Adams — who has charged him with lying and malicious accusations.

Fox also promised million-dollar suits against others who have been criticizing him.

This sudden development came just before Fox concluded 3 days of testimony to a House subcommittee. Presidential press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters: "Mr. Adams will have no comment on that. How silly can this whole thing get?"

The Fox testimony exploded sensational and uproars, accusations and denials, involving Adams, his wealthy Boston Herald and Traveler Corp., its attorney, William J. Dempsey, and Goldfine's attorneys, Roger Robb and Samuel Sears.

He didn't spell out the grounds for the suits. But he said after the hearing: "All the individuals and the newspapers made thoroughly scurrilous and libelous statements about me in writing."

Yelling and gavel banging brought the subcommittee session to a noisy close.

Dempsey was on his feet, among spectators in the big House caucus room, shouting that he wanted to put Fox on notice that "we propose to prove Mr. Fox is a liar, a welscher and a cheat."

Told To Sit Down

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) smothered some of Dempsey's words with a crashing gavel and thundered: "Take your seat!"

"And Mr. Officer," Harris roared, "I expect this order to be carried out."

A capitol policeman took a station behind the lawyer.

With denials coming quickly, Fox last week had depicted Adams as using his weight with government agencies to help Goldfine, a former friend and now a business foe of Fox.

Beynon Warns Cubans Huge Plant May Close

... Lincolnite Barely Avoids Kidnap Attempt

would now be a hostage held by the rebels if he had not left Monday.

In an effort to gain the return of Nicaraguan property and machinery which has been stolen by the rebels, Beynon Sunday accompanied Sherman White, general manager of the plant, to the mountains of eastern Cuba to "make contact with the rebels and find out what their intentions were."

Unable to contact the insurgents, Beynon and White made plans to make the effort again Monday. In the meantime, Beynon learned that the rebels were "trying to pick me up" and he employed a private plane to fly him out of the strife-torn country to Miami where he could get a commercial airliner to Washington.

Meanwhile, White went again to the mountains Monday as planned. He was carried off by a band of 8 rebels and is now being held along with 38 other Americans and 2 Canadians.

"It is a first class civil war down there," Beynon said. The Lincoln native and graduate of the University of Nebraska talked Saturday with the minister of finance and Sunday with the prime minister in an effort to press for government control over the rebellion.

Beynon journeyed to the hills to seek out the rebels during the weekend when 2 tractors and a truck were stolen from the Nicaro plant. The unsuccessful jaunt may have been a blessing, the former Lincoln attorney pointed out, reflecting on White's "successful" journey Monday.

Beynon flew to Cuba last week after the series of rebel raids on Nicaro property grew to "intolerable size."

He has been special assistant to Floete since 1956 and is specifically charged with handling the Nicaro plant. Previously Beynon had served with the Defense Department as director of real property management.

D. F. Hamann Law Clerk For Van Pelt

Deryl F. Hamann, top 1958 honor graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law, has been appointed law clerk to U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt of Lincoln.

Hamann, who is from Mansfield, Ia., was admitted to the Nebraska and Federal bars in June. He is a member of Order of the Coif, national honorary law society, and was associate editor of the Nebraska Law Review.

For the past 2 years, he has been research associate of the University agricultural economics department.

Hamann succeeds Jerrold Lee Strasheim, 1957 honor law graduate, as law clerk.

Strasheim, completing the one-year appointment traditionally given outstanding Nebraska law graduates, is now associated with the Lincoln law firm of Mason, Knutsen, Dickson & Berkheimer.

The Hamanns, who have 1 child, live at 4078 No. 68th.

Rockefeller Seeks N.Y. Governor Job

... Battle Of Millionaires Possible

New York (P) — Nelson A. Rockefeller announced Monday that he will seek the Republican nomination for governor. His candidacy posed the possibility of a battle of millionaires in the fall political campaign.

Rockefeller has been an undeclared candidate for weeks. Unofficial polls have depicted him as his party's strongest potential candidate. In his announcement, Rockefeller said:

"The people of the state of New York are entitled to government of the highest quality. I believe that the government they are getting is inadequate to meet the needs of our times, the changing facts of modern life and the insecurities of the present day."

The only candidate in the field against Rockefeller as of now is Leonard Hall, former Republican national chairman. He said he welcomed Rockefeller as a rival and suggested a series of debates on issues.

Rockefeller's nomination, if he can obtain it at the Aug. 25-26 state GOP convention, would pit 2 scions of vast wealth in the political arena of the Empire State. The prize would be not only the governorship but national stature within the winner's party.

Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman plans to run for a second term. Like Rockefeller, he inherited a fortune from his father. Harriman's wealth stems from railroads, Rockefeller's from oil.

Rockefeller as a candidate would be in about the same underdog position that Harriman was when he first sought political office in the gubernatorial race of 1954. Both men brought to their maiden political campaign a

Western Electric Plans To Cut Force Here 250

... Reduction To Come During Next 5 Months

Western Electric Co. in Lincoln will cut its present 800-employee work force by 250 in the next 5 months, it was announced in a statement issued by the company.

Company officials stressed, however, that there are no plans, at present, to close Lincoln operations.

P. E. Peterman, superintendent of the Lincoln shops, explained that the reduction in workforce was caused by a decrease in demand for step-by-step central office switching equipment.

Requirements Off
Peterman explained that requirements for Western Electric's product of the type manufactured at Lincoln have fallen off over the past several months.

According to Peterman, surplus employees at Lincoln who indicate an interest in employment at Western Electric's new Omaha plant are being considered for employment there as job openings become available.

Although the Omaha plant manufactures a different line of products than the Lincoln plant, many of the required skills are similar and it is believed, he said, that a substantial number of the surplus Lincoln employees can be offered jobs at Omaha.

Peterman also announced that he will be transferred to the Western Electric Hawthorne Works in Chicago.

Aug. 1 to fill a vacancy occasioned by the retirement of a superintendent at that location.

The Lincoln plant will then be operated by Assistant Superintendents G. R. Jewett and E. S. Morrissey, reporting to Omaha as headquarters.

NIGHT FOOT-PATROLMAN IS ASKED BY HAVELOCK

The City Council Monday was asked to consider the re-establishment of a night foot-patrolman in addition to the regular police cruiser in the Havelock business area.

The Havelock Business Men's Association, headed by Jack Smith, said the Lincoln suburb had had a night patrolman until 10 years ago.

The association's request for a foot-patrolman was based on the growth of the Havelock area and reported teenager rowdism on Havelock Avenue between 61st and 67th.

Also the Association said the after-hours checking of business firms was not as efficient by cruiser as by a foot patrol.

To Be Considered
Mayor Bennett Martin told the Havelock delegation of 13 men that the request for a night patrolman would be considered in connection with the 1958-59 police budget.

In other action, the Council laid over until next Monday the request for a zoning change on So. 14th following a rehearing.

The property, fronting 300 feet on Highway 77 (So. 14th) just south of the Nebraska Penitentiary dairy barn, is proposed as the location of the Nebraska Tractor and Equipment Co.'s new service and parts depot.

Originally Denied
The original application was denied by the Council upon recommendation of the City

Goodyear, Union Still Negotiating

Negotiations between the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Workers continued in Cleveland O., Monday night. The workers contract at the Lincoln Goodyear plant expires at 11 p.m. Tuesday, Lincoln Goodyear Manager Ben Stephens said. Some 500 Goodyear workers here are affected.

Talks were expected to continue into the morning hours Tuesday in an effort to ward off the strike scheduled for Tuesday night.

Authority to call the strike has been given to the negotiating union committee in Cleveland. Lincoln URW members voted 90% to authorize a walkout.

An agreement could be reached to keep Goodyear and Goodrich plants open on a day-to-day basis while negotiations continue if a settlement cannot be reached by strike time, Stephens pointed out.

Japan To Get Guns

Tokyo (P) — The United States is said to have told Japan it will lease 72 modern anti-aircraft guns to the Japanese Army this fall. The newspaper Tokyo Shimbun said the weapons are to replace obsolete guns.

Planning Commission as creating highway traffic hazards.

Lloyd Jeffries, attorney for the firm, presented 2 letters from State Highway Department officials tending to disclaim the highway hazards from the proposed development.

State Engineer L. N. Ressler's letter said that Highway 77 would eventually become a 4-lane divided highway and would require a 250-foot right-of-way as compared with the present 66 feet.

He recommended that the proper setback for this contingency be observed or provisions be made for an "access road."

The Council took the following action on ordinances:

Introduced, 1st Reading
Sanitary sewer ordinance amending increasing the fee for sewer connections outside the city limits from $25 to $50 and providing for payment of deferred assessments before connection is permitted.
Passed, 2nd Reading
Graveling District 196 being Smith from Scott Ave. to 40th.
Paving District 1576 being Y from 44th to 45th.
Building Code amendment permitting the use of 8-inch bricks in multiple dwellings of 1-story.

Bus Strike Negotiations Continuing

Negotiations continued Monday evening to settle the bus drivers strike of the Continental Trailways Central Division.

Negotiators said "there is nothing new to report" as they entered a hotel room for their second session in a long day of wage talks.

American Trailways, another division of Continental, also sat in on talks with representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Continental's Central Division drivers struck early Friday morning after negotiations over pay broke down. The strike affects travel south and southwest of Lincoln, although direct connections can still be made to all points except Wichita, Kan.

Drivers had asked a 1½ cent per mile raise when talks failed earlier; the company offered a .25 cent raise.

American Trailways is headquartered in Lincoln, while the main office of Continental Central is in Dallas, Tex.

Continental Central employs about 250 drivers and carries approximately 57,000 passengers daily.

The B52 was the first of its type to ever land at the local base. The Shah had been on a tour of SAC headquarters in Omaha before his arrival here for the flight.

SCHOOL DISTRICT FILES ITS SUIT AGAINST CITY

The Lincoln School District has filed as expected its $279,914.50 damage suit against the City of Lincoln in an attempt to recover parking violation fines.

The petition states that since the local parking violation ordinance went into effect in 1940 the city has collected $559,829 in fines, and that half of this should have gone to the local schools.

The suit grows out of a 1957 decision of the State Supreme Court which held, in a McCook case, that money collected for parking violations belongs to the schools and that no portion can be used by the city. Prior to the decision the city and school district had been splitting the fines on a 50-50 basis, with the city's share helping to defray the cost of handling the violations.

As a result of the court decision the school district now seeks the other half of the fine money.

The next step will be submission of briefs and oral arguments by the opposing sides. A decision on the suit is not expected for some time.

First Fine Levied For Failure To Have Correspondence Course Sale License

Finice L. Burkhead of the Capital Hotel became the first person to be prosecuted under a new state law which forbids the soliciting of correspondence courses without first obtaining a license from the State Board of Education.

Burkhead pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to failing to secure such a license before he enrolled a Lincoln woman in a nursing course put out by a Dallas, Tex., company. Judge Herbert A. Ronin found him guilty and fined him $25, noting that the law was only recently passed.

State law provides a fine of up to $500 or a 6-month jail term for violators. Ben Meckel of the State Board of Education filed the complaint, and said it was the first such charge to be prosecuted since the law became effective last year.

Burkhead said he did not know of the license requirement.

$1 Million Needed To Finish Storm Sewers

... $3.5 Million Bond Funds 'Not Enough'

By Virgil Falloon

Lincoln's $3.5 million storm sewer program will require at least $1 million more to complete all projects as authorized in 1954 by the City Council.

City Engineer Carl Fisher also reported Monday that needed projects costing an additional $665,000 have materialized since the original program was started.

Fisher pictured the city's storm sewer needs as $2,472,496 with an unexpended balance of $77,415 left to do the job.

Of the original bond issue and other funds totalling $3,546,423, Fisher said the $2,769,007 has been spent to date.

Completed Jobs

Completed projects include storm sewers, $2,027,634; miscellaneous sewers, $200,156; Antelope Creek bridges, $362,362 and Dead Man's Run bridges, $178,854.

Fisher said projects totalling $1,807,497 have been deferred, including $136,000 as incomplete projects; $885,497 as deferred storm sewer projects, $404,000 for Antelope Creek bridges, and $1,807,497 for Dead Man's Run bridges.

Fisher listed these reasons for the net deficiency of $1,030,081 in the originally-planned program:

—Miscellaneous projects later authorized by the Council totalling $200,000.

—Constantly rising construction costs since the 1953 estimates.

—Low estimates on the projects planned in the 1954 program.

$140,000 Over Estimate

Councilman C. W. D. Kinsey pointed out that the Antelope Creek bridges constructed cost $362,362 as compared with original estimates of $222,000.

"Those estimates were not made by us," Fisher reminded Kinsey.

"Our engineering department is not entirely excused," Kinsey replied. "They recommended Alvord, Burdick & engineering firm) to us. They're (the city engineering department) in the hot seat, too."

Doesn't Agree

In other Council discussion, Public Works Director D. L. Erickson said he didn't agree with Fisher's recommendation for additional projects.

He advised the Council to "give serious study to the original projects as approved before considering something new."

Fisher replied that certain storm sewer needs "have become important" since the original programming.

Under the remaining $777,415 storm sewer funds, Fisher recommended that immediate construction begin projects totalling $605,000.

Those Recommended

Recommended storm sewer projects include:

23rd and Q to 30th and N, $80,000; 62nd and Holdrege to 66th and Lexington, $65,000; H Street, West 1st to 4th, $75,000; 39th and L to 42nd and Whitherbee, $30,000; 33rd from A to B, $6,700; 44th and Cooper to 47th and Stockwell, $22,000; 46th and Pioneer to 47th and Prescott, $20,000; 48th and Locust to 52nd and Lowell, $40,000; 49th and Colfax to Salt Creek, $30,000; 44th from Van Dorn to High, $35,000; Frost Drive, L to J, (under contract), $2,000; Southeast Radial, (completed) $31,000; 41st from D to (being advertised), $3,300.

Recommended creek channel improvements:

Antelope Creek bridge at J, $70,000; Antelope Creek channel, H to N, $30,000; Deadman's Run bridge at 52nd and Francis, $65,000.

For the tentative remaining balance of $172,415 after completion of the above program authorized projects, Fisher also recommended additional projects costing $146,000 with the actual selection to be made by the Council.

These additional projects are part of the additional $665,000 program outlined by Fisher.

Erickson was critical of any additional storm sewer projects until the program originally approved can be completed.

RAIN TOTAL DOWN FROM GOOD 1957

If farmers in the Lincoln area feel they've been slighted this year as far as precipitation goes—here's the reason. The total precipitation figure of 11.84 inches for the first 6 months of 1958 is a big drop from the 15.74 inches total for the same period of 1957. The normal figure for the 6-month period is 12.70 inches.

And the drop in precipitation registered in June of this year is even more significant, for the 1.14 inches total figure is 2.96 inches below normal. The 1957 precipitation figure for June was a wet 6.07 inches.

Temperature wise, 1958 is approximately 2 degrees below normal, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau here. The high for the last 6 months was a warm 97 degrees on June 4; the low was a chilly minus 5 degrees, registered on February 16.

Precipitation figures for the first 6 months of 1957 and '58, plus the normal figures, are:

	1957	1958	Normal
January	4.4	1.25	.82
February	3.8	2.92	.92
March	5.33	1.81	1.47

Alaskans Whoop It Up Over News Of Senate Action On Statehood

Juneau, Alaska (AP)—Alaskans reacted to passage of the statehood bill as you'd think they would — they whooped it up.

Bells rang, sirens blew and automobile horns tooted. Residents who have long dreamed of this day cheered and shouted to fellow workers, neighbors and friends.

A 49-star flag—60 feet long and 40 feet high—was unfurled atop the Federal Building at Anchorage.

A 5-foot high replica of the Liberty Bell, normally tolled only on the Fourth of July, was struck 49 times by joyous members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Juneau.

Sirens Scream

Fire trucks at Fairbanks rushed through downtown streets, sirens screaming. A carillon's bells on a bank in downtown Ketchikan pealed celebration tunes.

Drinks were on the house at bars in Sitka, once the capital of Russian Alaska. There was a spontaneous parade at Seward as that port town on the Gulf of Alaska received the news.

The word spread quickly as radio stations interrupted regular broadcasts and newspapers hit the streets with extras.

At the Territorial Office Building in Juneau work came to a halt as the word spread.

Waino E. Hendrickson, secretary of Alaska and acting governor while Gov. Mike Stepovich huddled with statehood supporters in Washington, called for an unofficial holiday in the territory.

Up To People

Juneau, Alaska (AP)—It's now up to the people of Alaska to decide whether the big northern territory is to be the 49th state of the union.

Senate approval of the statehood bill was an invitation into the parlor for Alaska, which has sat on the doorstep of the union as a United States possession for 91 years.

It seems unlikely the youthful and vigorous residents of Alaska will reject statehood in a crucial referendum that is part of the preadmission procedure ordered by Congress.

However, the vote probably will not be close to unanimous—although some major opposition to immediate statehood within the territory wilted as congressional approval of the admission bill grew near.

Getting In Shape

Boise, Idaho (AP)—"Maybe I'd better get my nose in shape," Alaska's attorney general said on learning the Senate had voted to make his territory the 49th state.

J. Gerald Williams, sometimes called "Doubter Williams" because of his pessimism about statehood chances, conceded he recently said he'd push a peanut with his nose the 120 miles from Alaska's Tok Junction to Big Delta if Congress approved statehood this session.

He was visiting friends here when he got the word. His reaction:

"I can hardly believe it. We've been fooled so many times. . ."

Fondling Innocent Plea Made By Man, 69

Ben Thompson of 4942 Adams pleaded innocent Monday in Lancaster County Court to 2 charges of fondling a minor.

His preliminary hearing was set for July 12, and a $1,500 appearance bond was required by Judge Herbert A. Ronin. Thompson, 69, is charged with fondling two 9-year-old Lincoln girls June 27.

CHADRON PROJECT OKAYED

... Cost $207,000

By Betty Person

Gov. Victor Anderson Monday authorized the State Normal Board to take bids immediately on remodeling of the heating plant, and electric and water distributing systems at Chadron State Teachers College with the project's total cost estimated at $207,000.

Funds for the project will come from the Normal Board's share of the state building levy money.

Anderson said he requested that the bids be submitted to him for final approval.

Has Veto Power

The 1957 Legislature, in continuing the building levy for state institutions, gave the governor veto power over all projects.

Chadron's request for modernization of its facilities was made early this year and Gov. Anderson authorized an engineering survey to determine the need and cost of the project.

The survey report was approved by the Board at its June 21 meeting and the request for the governor's approval of the project was submitted to Anderson Monday.

Utility Facilities

According to the engineering firm's estimate, modernization of the school's electric distribution system will cost about $102,000; water distribution system, $21,000; and heating plant, $84,000.

The Normal Board wrote Gov. Anderson that the $207,000 total includes an engineering fee of 6%, together with a supervision fee of 3% and administrative charges of 3%.

The Board said it believes the administrative charges and at least part of the supervisory charges "can be absorbed as part of our regular administrative program."

'Neurotic Pride' Said Key To Actions Of Russians

The Russians act the way they do because they "are extremely poor," because they are "neurotically proud" and because they are afraid of war, Dr. George Z. F. Bereday said Monday at the University of Nebraska.

Bingo Signer Check Shows Close Race

At the close of business Monday, the Secretary of State's office had found 32,137 valid signatures on the petitions to place a constitutional amendment legalizing bingo before Nebraska voters in the November election.

With the requirement that 56,794 valid signatures are necessary to place the issue on the general election ballot, and with 3,349 signatures left to check, it appeared the petition sponsors must obtain at least 3,000 more signatures by Thursday's 5 p.m. deadline.

Robert Lowe, state adjutant of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, co-sponsors of the petition drive with the Fraternal Order of Eagles, said if petition circulators produce as they have promised, they will be able to meet their goal.

Lowe said petition circulators in Douglas County alone have promised another 4,000 signatures.

The VFW adjutant submitted another 626 signatures Monday bringing to 67,515 the total number submitted thus far.

The disqualification of signatures for technical reasons has been running at about 17% which is considerably over the usual 10% disqualification on most petition drives.

The Columbia professor of comparative education discussed observations made during his recent one-month visit in Russia as a member of an official 10-man exchange team.

The Polish-born educator attributed the present Russian poverty to the emphasis during the last 40 years on heavy industry. Although food is abundant now and they are beginning to export, everything beyond food is in short supply, he said.

'Come Hard'

He noted that all things which are natural to the modern industrial world, such as organizing to build a bridge, organizing a 15-minute dinner or running a several story elevator, "come hard" to the Russians.

But they put their faith in planning, he continued. "It is the way they hope to eliminate poverty and cure their ills."

In discussing the pride of the Russians, Dr. Bereday pointed to the natural tendency of Slavs to feel inferior when they meet Westerners. Part of the feeling, he said, might be traced to some "trifling" such as difference in heights.

The philosophy to get ahead of the West permeates the Russian people, he stressed.

As a result, the Russians "are extremely sensitive" about articles criticizing them.

Observing that maimed people "abound in a way never seen here," Dr. Bereday said that no Russian he talked to wanted war.

Many are afraid, however, he added, that the U.S. may want and will wage war.

Dr. Bereday will conduct public seminars in Room 415, Administration Hall, at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., Tuesday through Thursday this week.

All On A Summer's Day

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The past week end was one which emphasized the need for facilities to fill the idle hours of citizens. The hours are not idle in that they are completely unconstructive but were not hours spent on a job. Thousands spent the two days in lazy relaxation at the swimming pools, the parks and other places.

Except for the tragedy of three drowning, the days were carefree and full of happiness. They left those who took part in them much better prepared to take on another round of life's more serious pursuits. Some 800 persons relaxed at the first of six summer band concerts to be presented from the new bandstand in Antelope Park. This pleasant activity is the result of the generosity of local musicians and the work of the city in providing the location.

The new bandstand was a relatively small investment but is now beginning to pay back dividends that will be accumulated by the people of Lincoln for many years to come. Crowded to the hilt over the week end were Lincoln's three public swimming pools — hitting a total attendance mark of some 5,000 people.

The number of people at the pools leaves little room for complacency in this department. Despite the effort the city has made to provide adequate pool facilities, the demand on the pools has seriously taxed their capacity. There is no room for the city to feel it has this problem under control.

At 33rd and O, a start, small but important, has been made on the Woods Memorial Park. The tract has been properly contoured and a beginning has been made on landscaping. Even this modest step has made a substantial improvement in the appearance of the area.

But much more remains to be done. The tract has long been considered as a fourth swimming pool site, along with many other facilities. The park is strategically located in comparison with the location of the three existing pools. It is hoped that the coming fiscal year will permit the continuation of work at Woods Park.

But while the hot summer days are sending many people in search of cool waters or quiet shade, it sends some younger folks in another direction. In Wauneta, Neb., Frank Lee is retiring after 26 years of serving customers on his daily milk route.

If Mr. Lee had the gift of story-telling, he could undoubtedly spin a good many interesting yarns about the incidents that have filled his days of delivering the milk. His business started in 1925 with a horse and buggy. His is a profession that ranks right up there with the mailman and other home service groups in the hearts of the American people.

And with the children, the milkman has always been a popular sight. In the sweltering heat of summer, the sight of the milk truck has sent many a child scampering off in hot pursuit of the vehicle.

When the old icebox left the American scene, the ice delivery man bowed out with it. No longer can the children cool off with the ice they salvaged from the iceman's truck. A good iceman always chipped his blocks up in such a fashion as to keep a good supply of smaller pieces for the children.

But the milkman soon replaced this vacuum in the land, and children came to depend on him for that delicious bit of mid-day refreshment. But alas, even that era is rapidly disappearing from the American scene as the dairy industry converts to refrigerated trucks. It's ice-cubes out of the refrigerator now, kids, or if you are convincing enough, a dime for an ice-cream bar.

Americans In Trouble

Things do not seem to be getting any better for Americans who find themselves on foreign and sometimes unfriendly soil. The disturbing chain of events started when nine American airmen went down into the Soviet-controlled zone of East Germany. A long and fruitless diplomatic hassle has followed this event and the American citizens are still prisoners of the East German government.

Now, another nine American airmen have been forced down inside Soviet Armenia by two Russian jets. Diplomatic negotiations for the release of these men are being carried on but little progress has yet been made. The Russians, of course, are using the incident for propaganda purposes.

In Latin America, the rebel forces of Fidel Castro have captured a total of 41 hostages. What will become of the men in any of these cases is hard to say at this point. But it would seem that the situation bears some looking into by the government. Why is it that these men are falling into enemy hands?

Mistakes in navigation might easily put a plane over hostile territory but U.S. airmen seem involved in such circumstances a little too regularly. It also seems as though the U.S. State Department could be a little more forceful in negotiating the return of American citizens from unfriendly nations. In the case of the East German incident, particularly, we appear to be standing rather high on protocol when we should be more concerned merely with the safety of the lives involved. Frankly, it is about time we became a little fed up with abuse from just anybody who feels inclined to take a pot-shot at us.

Just As Well Off Dead

Operating agriculture has good cause to lament the lack of substantially remedial farm legislation this session, but it has little cause to mourn the death of the farm bill as was.

When the House killed the bill last week it got rid of something that was all legs and no head, a conglomeration of special interest panaceas, distinguished by one outstanding characteristic—lack of compatibility. Had they proved tolerable the unceasing demand for referenda of the more complex sort would have turned operating farmers into Philadelphia lawyers rather than planters.

One can agree with Agriculture Secretary Benson who defined the bill as a monstrosity, possibly because the bulk of its varied provisions were anathema to him. But such criticism as he leveled at it fails to vindicate his own position. He, himself, failed to come forward with a resourceful, constructive measure acceptable either to the Congress or to the bulk of the people who plant and harvest the crops. When such leadership is not supplied bills frequently become a hodge podge of items and the late lamented farm bill was no exception.

Currently, Nebraska is in a good way to survive the inadequacies of the Congress and the agricultural administration. A careful look at the maturing wheat fields is the most reassuring sight in the regional farm picture. Whatever wheat brings in the market place there will be plenty of it to market, if all signs don't fail.

Catching The Big Idea

There was a feeling of general optimism at week end in Custer county, especially in the heartland which lies about the Sargent community. It was marked by a three day celebration of Sargent's 75th anniversary, an event that was attended in terms of thousands.

All of the pleasures of a town's 75th anniversary were there. But the event was coupled with an especially bracing factor—the prospect of a future far stronger than the very satisfying past. The Sargent area has developed the Middle Loup river and has put 18,000 acres under irrigation. Sargent is the cornerstone of an extensive structure which ultimately is expected to utilize the water both of the Middle and North Loup rivers in a six county area that will stretch generally from above Sargent to as far east as Fullerton and as far south as the Hall county line below Dannebrog. The general area can be described as west of Columbus and north of Grand Island.

With the Sargent section under operation the next major piece of work will be the Farwell unit in Howard county in the area west of St. Paul.

The Farwell project, estimated to cost $30 million was authorized by Congress last year and will receive its first $750,000 appropriation this summer.

Managed water in the Loup river region means ever-normal production in volume substantially greater than in the past. It means also that in the current agricultural revolution high production areas have the best chance of survival and managed water is a telling factor. This has become clear to the Platte Valley, the Republican Valley and now the Loup river people. It is a point of view which, continuing to extend, will ultimately raise Nebraska above its former relationship with some other states slightly more favored by natural rainfall. In doing so it will deliver greater prosperity and security to the state.

Unbeatable Hymn

Every so often a movement starts to redo the Star Spangled Banner. Most recently there is a strong effort to shave off some of its high notes and elevate its lowest ones. There is a companion movement, not so far developed, to rearrange its wording so that the average citizen can fit them in the melody without being a contortionist.

Ultimately flattening the melody will win de facto because Americans have been doing that since the start. It will be just a matter of making the notes conform to the average set of vocal cords.

There is less of a case for changing the words. It is to be remembered that they were put together by Francis Scott Key during an engagement with the British in the War of 1812. The British won the war, but vocally they never conquered the Star Spangled Banner. And we haven't lost a war since then. That's reason enough to keep stringing along with Mr. Key.

Near East History Repeating Itself

WASHINGTON — In more ways than one, history regarding the Near East is repeating.

About three weeks ago, when Prime Minister Macmillan of England was in the White House, Eisenhower approached him about cooperating with the United States in armed intervention in Lebanon if necessary.

Macmillan was something less than lukewarm. He did not get up and wave the Union Jack over marching into Lebanon with any degree of enthusiasm. In fact he couldn't help but remind Eisenhower, gently, that it was almost two years ago that Britain intervened in Suez when Eisenhower stopped that intervention.

If British-French-Israeli operations against Nasser had been permitted to continue, the British prime minister intimated, it would not now be necessary for the United States to be talking about new intervention against Nasser.

However, since the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary Dulles all agreed on intervention, Macmillan reluctantly consented to go along. To that end, 37,000 British troops are concentrated on Cyprus just a few miles from Lebanon, ready for intervention. This is exactly what happened before the Suez landing in October, 1956.

Meanwhile, Lebanese President Chamoun was offered aid, and U.S. Ambassador Thompson in Moscow was instructed to call on Foreign Minister Gromyko and inform him that the United States was determined to use force if necessary to protect Lebanon independence. Eisenhower figured the threat of American intervention would discourage both the Russians and the Arab rebels in Lebanon.

But it hasn't worked out this way. The United States, thanks to our slump in military prestige, can no longer negotiate from strength. Russian and Syrian arms continued to cross the Lebanese border to aid the rebels, while Russia issued a gruff warning that "volunteers" might intervene in Lebanon if the United States and Britain intervened.

At this point Eisenhower and Dulles began to get cold feet. Last week U.S. Ambassador McClintock in Beirut was instructed to urge President Chamoun not to call on the United States for aid under the Eisenhower doctrine — except in case of "dire emergency." Even then, American marines and British paratroopers would be used only to evacuate American-British civilians. Turkish-Israeli troops would be flown in to battle the Arab rebels.

During the height of the Washington furor over Sherman Adams, the man who had caused the furor, Mr. Adams, went out to a Washington cocktail party, where he got into a conversation over fishing.

"The best fishing I ever had was in Turkey. I was in Germany visiting with Laurie Norstad," he said, referring to the American commander of NATO. "Norstad flew me to Turkey and we spent two days there fishing. It was a great experience."

Demos Strengthen Case In Two States

WASHINGTON—In Senate nominating conventions last weekend, Connecticut Democrats made predictable decision and Indiana for the first time in recent years opened up as a real two-party battleground.

Playing it safe, Democrats of the Nutmeg state named Thomas J. Dodd, a former U.S. representative, to run against the Republican incumbent, Senator William A. Purtell, next fall.

Purtell is a Catholic and it is estimated that upward of 60 per cent of Connecticut voters are of that faith. Democrats there, since the death of Senator Brian McMahon, have not had a widely known Catholic in the top hierarchy of elected officials.

They therefore picked Dodd, although many of them privately felt that the wide international experience of former Governor Chester Bowles uniquely qualified him for the Senate in these times. But Dodd achieved a majority on the first ballot and Bowles promptly said he would not avail himself of his earned opportunity to seek a run-off in a general primary.

The ticket now headed by Gov. Abe Ribicoff and Dodd is a heavy favorite to win, Senator Purtell, who fought vigorously and effectively for his first term in Washington, has apparently neglected his fences at home and suffers as well from the general trend away from his party.

Ribicoff has been a popular governor with a heavily Republican legislature which obliged him by standing in his way too often for that party's good. His opponent, State Controller Fred Zeller, is a Taft wheelhorse who arouses no enthusiasm among the Eisenhower republicans of the state.

The frequently notorious politics of the Hoosier state is acquiring a fresh face in Mayor Vance of Evansville, who won the Democratic nomination for the Senate in a surprisingly mild contest between warring Democratic factions. Young, presentable and possessed of a record for administrative effectiveness, Vance could prove the 1958 Senate sleeper provided the state party decides to fight Republicans instead of each other for a change and he can be adequately financed.

His opportunity lies in the confused state Republican situation plus the national trend. Not only are Republicans at war with each other, they are beset by scandals in the big new highway program. In these scandals Republican labor leaders are involved, so that their influence with their unions is lessened.

The Republican candidate against Vance is Gov. Harold Handley, a protégé of Senator William Jenner, who months ago announced his retirement. The attrition of the isolationist right wing of his party had left Jenner much alone here and he also pleaded health considerations.

The Jenner-Handley faction is fiercely at odds with Senator Homer Capehart and the Indiana delegation in the House of Representatives. Through the happy incident of a microphone left open in the press room, their uninhibited abuse of each other was disclosed to the Indiana public last spring, making it difficult for them to pretend to close harmony now.

Patchwork Prairie Country

June is always an exotic month in the prairie states. It's a green-gold month—the green of corn and clover fields, the gold of ripening grain. With the murmur of the wind-swayed grass, summer makes her entry and dips her fingers into the enchanting perfumes of the wild flowers. Along the quiet rural ways there is a low, responsive sigh among the cottonwoods. The bobwhite's call drifts along the hedge-row and the small quail chicks come from their cover to feed.

Small wonder that as I bade June adieu, I did so with regrets. But with July, there will come the exciting Fourth and picnics odorous of field or stream. There will be harvest time, with lunch in the fields and tasselings of corn. Pink lemonade and band concerts in the park—now that I come to think of it, July doesn't sound bad, at all. So welcome, July, with your hot noonday sun—glad to make your acquaintance again.

I set yeast dough yesterday morning before going to the garden to work awhile in the cool of the morning. I was gone longer than I thought, what with powdering cucumbers, strawing tomatoes and hoeing weeds. I hadn't expected such vigorous action since the house was quite chilly in the morning, but the sun had come out and I had set the bowl in direct line of the sun's rays through the window. The dough was all warm and spongy, just right for making coffee cake and rolls. They turned out to be delicious despite the attempted getaway.

Along about this time of year, families are beginning to plan for their vacations. We seldom get away from the farm but occasionally I send and get travel folders just in case we decide to go on a journey.

There's one from Florida with its graceful flamingos wading the stream. I couldn't honestly say they were any more eye-catching than the blue herons that come to our ponds. There are pictures of ocean sunsets, but I wondered if the sunsets more colorful on the ocean than it does on our rippling seas of golden wheat fields. There are quiet secluded streams where tourists doze peacefully while they loll along the banks, but we, too, have slow-running streams that wind like silver threads around the hills. True, our home is no Waldorf-Astoria or Conrad Hilton, but we sleep comfortably and peacefully with the fresh, cool breeze of night blowing comfortably through our little bungalow. Our lounge is not of plush cushions and velvet drapes, but we rest easy in our familiar chairs and the curtains at the windows are pulled aside to let the outdoors in when we wish to scan the scenic countryside.

True, our food is not served under glass, but can you think of anything tastier than country fried chicken, fresh garden tomatoes, corn on the cob, peach pie and steaming cups of coffee? Come to think of it, we have many of the things to delight a vacationer right here at home. Perhaps that is the reason for our staying at home. And it's much cheaper, too. Besides that, we never get burned and blistered from the sun, nor poison ivy to give us the miseries. Guess we'll stay home this year. Vacations can be so much fun if we take the time to appreciate the things we have.

Anyone care to join us?

State Death Toll

Sterling, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The state had to do something, so it raised the speed limit. Now we can see what has happened. The death toll is way above last year's. We were coming down on the death rate until the speed limit was changed. Why can't they leave something alone? The roads in Nebraska aren't meant for fast travel. Sometimes we are 10 or 20 deaths above last year's figure. I read that the trouble is that the car of tomorrow is being driven on the highway of yesterday by the driver of today. So I hope they are satisfied.

Brussels Incident

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It's not very conducive to good friendly relations, publishing trifling incidents such as the one at Brussels, Belgium, by foreign newspapers. Petty larceny is happening here every day, and many cases are not even mentioned in the press. Those that are printed usually on the inside pages, not splashed on the front page to attract attention.

The incident was probably a trumped-up deal, anyway, as subsequent investigation will likely reveal. There was a similar case in England. There was no need for the entertainer to take anything, for they draw good wages.

Another thing we should do is stop violating foreign territory. There have been too many incidents to date of U.S. planes violating territory. I don't know of a single violation of our territory by foreign planes. U.S. officials and the brass have denied some; others are explained as accidents or of being lost. I wonder if they expect us to believe that?

J. BRYCE

No Comparison

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the June 30 edition of The Lincoln Star, the article entitled "A Quiet Goldfine in D.C." states in part: "Nixon declared there was no comparison between the Adams-Goldfine case and the mink coats and deep freezes of the Truman administration."

Nixon is right for the wrong reason. "Nixon said there had been no proof that Adams granted any favor to Goldfine after receiving gifts from him."

Which proves exactly nothing. Was Adams demanding payment in advance or sending his favors out C.O.D.? Maybe he checked on Goldfine in Dun & Bradstreet and decided that Bernie's credit was good, in which case he could safely grant the favor first and receive his reward later.

The real reasons why there is no comparison between the two cases have been stated before. Namely, that two wrongs have never made a right, and also because Ike was portrayed as so high-minded and pure that he was above criticism, while Mr. Truman was offered as just what he was—a capable, hard-working, full-time executive, and an ordinary American. Harry was not placed on a pedestal as was Ike. If Harry had fallen, his fall wouldn't have been so great. Ike hasn't fallen all the way yet, but he certainly has slipped.

West Eager to Retain Brilliant Fuch's Mind

LONDON—A murderer named Brian Hume, who ingeniously but unsuccessfully tried to dispose of his victim's body by dropping it from a plane flying over the North Sea, emerged from Wakefield jail not long ago. He had been given a fairly light sentence because he proved to the court's satisfaction that two other men were involved in the slaying.

Hume promptly announced upon leaving prison that he was the sole murderer and sold his memoirs to a London paper, knowing that he could not be tried again. He brought something else out of prison with him: sketches and notes indicating that a fellow prisoner at Wakefield had drawn up the specifications of an earth satellite some years before the Russians launched Sputnik I.

The prisoner was Klaus Fuchs, the major atomic spy whose own term will end this fall. British and American minds are at work on how to keep the brilliant traitor from disappearing behind the Iron Curtain with what they fear is a treasure trove of theories and calculations amassed during his more than 8 years of prison life. In their anxiety to keep Fuchs in the West, several British and American atomic research outfits have offered him attractive posts—though the man would have been duly electrocuted along with the Rosenbergs had he been an American citizen. Fuchs' citizenship is now German, a retroactive status he attained when the British took away his citizenship papers in 1951.

If Hume's documents are valid, and there is no reason to believe they are not, they might indicate that Fuchs is at least partly responsible for the startling Soviet progress in space exploration. Some alumni of the Manhattan Engineering District project declare that the information Fuchs leaked during and after the war enabled Russia to produce the atomic bomb perhaps 10 years sooner than anticipated.

What is not as well known is the fact that long before even the U. S. had its first atomic bomb, Fuchs was rated among the world's top three theoreticians on the feasibility of the hydrogen bomb. Presumably, those studies also were sent along to the Russians, via Messenger Harry Gold in the U.S.

2 Cops Slain Invading Dwelling To Arrest Mental Patient

... Nabbed After 5-Hour Siege

Pawtucket, R. I. (P)—Two Pawtucket detectives were shot to death when they invaded a dwelling to arrest a heavily-armed former mental patient.

Detective Lt. Thomas Truesdale, 58, and Detective Emil Newberg, 56, were shot as they tried to seize Robert Genereux, 35, who had barricaded himself in a bathroom of his mother's home near busy Route 1.

Police said Genereux fired several shots from a German Luger pistol through the bathroom door when the 2 officers ordered him to surrender.

Truesdale was wounded in the lung and Newberg in the stomach. They died at Rhode Island Hospital.

The 5-hour siege of the house began after police received reports that Genereux had fired 2 shots through the wall of a vacant tenement next door and was heavily armed.

Left House

His mother, Mrs. Adrienne Mitchell, about 65, left the house before the shooting occurred. Earlier reports said she had been held captive by her son.

After the 2 detectives were shot, some 40 policemen surrounded the 3 tenement house and raked the first floor, where Genereux lived, with machine gun fire and tear gas.

Genereux was seized by Police Capt. Joseph E. McAlvey and Detective James E. Brennan who shot their way into the bathroom where he had barricaded himself in a closet. He was armed with the pistol when taken.

Genereux was hospitalized with head wounds apparently inflicted when he was subdued. His condition was not serious.

Voluntarily

The Veterans Hospital at Brockton, Mass., said

Genereux committed himself voluntarily a couple of years ago and refused to come back after being issued a pass a few weeks ago.

The hospital said he had never shown any tendency to violence except toward himself.

Police said he had a strange fascination for guns and kept several in his home.

During the siege police seized 2 revolvers and a rifle, but Genereux kept the Luger with which he did the shooting, police said.

Pipe Breaks, Damages Trust Bldg.

A water pipe leading to a 15-ton air conditioner burst early Monday morning in the Trust Building at 941 O and considerable water damage resulted to second-floor offices of the First Trust Co.

No reliable estimate of the cost of repairs was available, but a building spokesman said a 100 by 10 foot strip of ceiling probably would have to be replaced. Some furniture and wiring damage also resulted.

The 3/4-inch pipe led to the air conditioner which was used to cool the building's third floor. It was located between the second-floor ceiling and third-floor floor. Water was 6 inches deep before a night watchman discovered the break and shut off the pipe.

Milk Bill OK'd

Washington (P)—The House passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill continuing for another 3 years the government special school milk program.

The bill authorizes federal contribution of 75 million dollars a year through June 30, 1961, to reimburse schools, summer camps, and other types of non-profit child care and training institutions which supplement child diets with milk.

Son-In-Law Says Goldfine's Only Hobby Is Giving

Boston (P)—Entertainer Johnny Howard says millionaire industrialist Bernard Goldfine's only hobby is giving gifts.

Howard thinks he's an authority on Goldfine's gift giving for 2 reasons:

1. It was a $1,000 gift—a tip—that Goldfine gave him that led to an acquaintanceship with Goldfine's daughter, Cynthia.

2. The acquaintanceship blossomed and now Cynthia is Mrs. Johnny Howard.

Howard en route to a club date in New Hampshire said it is the only hobby he has outside of walking. He doesn't gamble, play the horses, cards, or anything of that nature.

Son-in-law Johnny explained: "As far as I know

$113,870 ASKED IN SHOOTING OF BOY HERE

James A. Bixler of 2921 So. 12th filed a $113,870 damage suit against the operator and an employee of a riding stable where his 15-year-old son was shot Apr. 26.

Bixler's son, Louis, was seriously wounded when shot in the stomach with a .22 pistol held by David Avery of the Lincoln Air Force Base. Authorities ruled the shooting was accidental, and no charges were filed.

Avery and J. T. Garner, operator of the stables at 2220 Pioneers where the shooting occurred, were named as defendants of the suit. Bixler alleged in his petition that his son was hospitalized 26 days as a result of the shooting and that it necessitated the removal of one of his son's kidneys.

Reineke Is Bound Over

Lancaster County Judge Herbert A. Ronin ordered Larry Reineke, who allegedly took his infant daughter from her mother's home here without her permission May 28, bound over to Lancaster District Court for trial on a non-support charge.

Judge Ronin ruled, following a preliminary hearing, that a crime had been committed and that there is probable cause to believe the 26-year-old Reineke committed it. Reineke has pleaded innocent to failing to support his wife and 8-month-old daughter from Apr. 27 to May 28.

His wife, Diana (who was "Miss Nebraska" of 1953), filed the non-support charge against him after he allegedly took their daughter from her home at 1135 So. 15th. Reineke was later apprehended in New Orleans, La., reportedly en route to his farm in Nicaragua. Mrs. Reineke has since filed for divorce (the couple separated in March, 1957).

'30-Year Itch'

London (UPI)—Lady Molly Huggins, one of Britain's top socialites, said her husband, a former governor of Jamaica, seems to have fallen "victim to the 30-year itch" and run off with a dress shop keeper.

Sir John Huggins, 66, is vacationing in Italy. So is Mrs. Margaret Hitchcock, the owner of a dress shop and, according to Lady Molly's statement to newsmen, is the other woman in her husband's life.

OUR GREETINGS TO JULY

—we put out the welcome mat for July this morning—a very fancy mat it is, too. There are five Wednesdays in July. Wednesdays are pay days. In addition to the financial angle July also is the month that includes the “safe and sane Fourth,” the harvesting of the wheat crop — vacations—and various matters of interest. * * *

—checked to see if there were more courtesies for Mrs. A. H. Dugdale of Rutherford, N.J., who is the house guest of Mrs. Donald W. Miller, and learned that one had been added to the list we had formerly mentioned. On Sunday evening Mrs. Ellery Davis complimented her sister-in-law when she was a dinner hostess at the Lincoln Country Club. —we understand that Mrs. Dugdale will accompany Mrs. Miller and Mrs. E. H. Polley to Aspen, Colo., and the Aspen Music Festival. Mrs. Dugdale will return home from Colorado after a few days stay there, but Mrs. Polley and Mrs. Miller plan to remain at Aspen for two weeks. * *

—yesterday was a big day for Bobby Cullinan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cullinan. The young man celebrated his third birthday anniversary with a pool party at his home. Four members of the very young set were guests, and on hand to assist with the party was Bobby's six year-old brother, Tommy. —leaving late last week to return to their home in San Diego, Calif., were Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Kierstead and their daughter, Kay. The visitors had been guests of Mr. Kierstead's mother, Mrs. H. J. Kierstead, and his brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Kierstead. The travelers stopped off in Lincoln en route to their home from Minneapolis where Mr. Kierstead had attended the convention of the National Photographers Association. * *

Miss Unterseher Was Honoree

Among the numerous courtesies to Miss Carol Unterseher whose marriage to John C. Gourlay will be an event of this weekend, was a dessert luncheon for which Mrs. Dick Hartsock and Mrs. Robert Knapple were hostesses on Saturday, June 23. The affair was held at the Hartsock home, and during the afternoon a miscellaneous shower was presented to the bride-elect. Pictured (from left to right) are: Mrs. Knapple, Miss Unterseher, Mrs. Hartsock, Mrs. Richard Rice and Mrs. Tom Larsen. The marriage of Miss Unterseher and Mr. Gourlay will be solemnized in a 10 o'clock ceremony at the Blessed Sacrament Church on Saturday morning.

Dear Abby . . . Meeting The Public Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago you had a letter in your column stating the pros and cons of “tipping” waitresses. You seemed to think waitresses should be tipped generously because their pay was inadequate. This should be the problem of the management, not the public. Furthermore, I happen to know that many waitresses choose that kind of work. NOT because they need the money, but because they want to meet the public and, believe me, I am putting it delicately.

ONE WHO KNOWS DEAR ONE: Women who simply want to “meet the public” can either walk the streets or hang out in saloons but a woman who is willing to stand on her feet eight hours a day, carrying heavy trays and smile at hungry (and oftentimes rude) people is entitled to as big a tip as the diner can afford. * *

DEAR ABBY: Now that summer is here I am faced with the same old problem. I am quite thin and I don't look bad in clothes but when I wear a bathing suit I look like a skeleton. My doctor has given me iron, vitamins and tonics but I can't put on an ounce. Everywhere you see diets for girls who are too fat (they don't know how lucky they are) but nowhere is there any help for us girls who are too thin. I am 28, love to swim, but am ready to give up. TOO THIN DEAR TOO: Stick with your doctor in the hope that he'll come up with something effective. In the meantime, go to your friendly neighborhood beachwear dealer. Find yourself a suit that features built-in self-confidence and covers everything. * *

DEAR ABBY: How stupid can a guy be? Just picked up your column and found out a serviceman can get his high school diploma while he is serving time in the U. S. ARMED FORCES. I am one of those characters who quit school in my Junior Year and have regretted it ever since. Believe you me, I am talking to the C.O. on this Post and am going to make up for lost time. Thanks, Pal. C. P. G.: USAF

DEAR C. P. G.: The Armed Forces realize that a man needs an education in order to advance. It's yours for the asking. Good luck! * *

DEAR ABBY: In 1953 I married a widow with a living husband. I realized that I had made a mistake but am not the kind to back out of a bargain so I tried to make the best of it. I am 74 years old and don't expect to live forever anyway. This woman is 56 and has children all over the United States and she visits them all. She has lived with me a total of

55 days since our marriage. I am opposed to divorce but do you think it is too late to get an annulment? MARRIED AND LONESOME DEAR MARRIED: Your “wife” has not given you the companionship you married for. See your lawyer about legal separations and annulments — you've earned your eligibility. * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that makes me so scared I could die. I've never kissed a boy before on my front porch because the porch light is always on and everyone can see us. I know I will have to kiss this boy on our next date and I want to, but it scares me to think that everyone will be watching us. Should I tell him if he plans on kissing me goodnight to kiss me in the car? SCARED

DEAR SCARED: Invite him to step inside the door to say goodnight. If the problem presents itself then — meet it! * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANN: He may be the “salt of the earth” but somebody should shake him. * *

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Paintings Are Chosen

The 37th annual Lincoln Artist's Guild show, held at the Miller and Paine Auditorium, closed on Saturday. Nearly four thousand people visited the gallery during the week-long exhibition, and the results of their voting on the works of their choice are announced this morning by Don Hemphill, vice president

Whitcomb of Dorchester, and the second, third and fourth paintings, all oils, were: “The Catalinas,” by Phyllis Weaver of Lincoln; “Trees,” E. B. Peterson of Lincoln, and “Misty Morning,” by Shirley Martin, also of Lincoln.

Another Junior League Project

The Lincoln Junior League devotes much of its time and effort to the younger generation, and the newest of the projects is the “teen age discussion group which meets each Tuesday evening at the South Branch library. Sponsors and co-leaders of this group are Mrs. Norman Shaw and Mrs. Burket Graf who have invited students of senior high schools — 10th, 11th and 12th grade, to meet for a discussion of literature. Scheduled for discussion currently and in the immediate future are Hamlet, The Confessions of St. Augustine, some of the top ranking short stories, plus a promise of a full and interesting calendar of books and plays for the weeks ahead. In the picture, left to right,

Mrs. Pauline Lett of Denver was her sister's matron of honor, and the junior bridesmaids were Miss Judy

Hostesses

The members of the Lincoln Druggists Wives Club entertained their husbands at dinner on Friday evening at Tony and Luigi's. Places were arranged for 26.

The Druggists Wives Club plans to make the event an annual affair.

McAllister of Denver, and Miss Dianne Schluntz of Republican City. Susan Schluntz was her aunt's flower girl, and Steven McAllister carried the rings.

Dwight Bash of Orleans served as best man, and seating the guests were Leo Lennemann and Richard Brown.

The bride appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The long-sleeved bodice, designed with a yoke of illusion which was completed with a minute collar of lace, was snugly fitted. The lace was repeated in applied medallions on the wide tulle skirt which was fashioned with a back panel of lace ruffles. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was held to the head with a lace cloche, and she carried white orchids on a white Bible.

Following the reception Mr. Lennemann and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Canada after which they returned to Lincoln to reside.

For the ceremony, which will be solemnized at 10:30 o'clock at St. Teresa's Church, Miss Wesierski has chosen as her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Wally Wesierski. The bride-elect's cousin, Miss Joan Wesierski of Loup City, will be the bridesmaid.

Connie's Column

by Constance Flame

Picture Hanging • Brush-Up Classes • Tight Pigtails
Summer Comfort • Husking Corn • Blocks for Book-Ends

Earning-Learning

The Board of Education, the Mayor and other interested folks at Minneapolis, Minn., embarked on a wonderful project: Re-training mature women who wish to go to work. Mothers of grown children, widows seeking a fuller life or working women who felt "in a rut" enrolled in special brush-up classes. Employers like the plan, say mature women are good "job risks". Maybe you'd like such a plan in your town. Start the ball rolling now; you might have evening classes under way by the time school starts.

Hanging Pictures

Nice man who came to wash my walls left this advice for you: Driving a nail into the wall needn't precipitate chipping or cracking plaster. Put a wide strip of cellophane tape over the spot first. (Makes it easier to mark the place the nail goes, too!)

Beauty Plea

Recently watched a wee girl blush beet-red when someone called her "pitcher". There she was, ears showing at their widest... because Mom braided her hair in tight pigtails! Same child would have been prettier (and far happier) with soft curls to camouflage her ears. She could put up her own pin-curls! Show Daughter ways to play up good features, play down less attractive ones. She'll thank you all her happy life!

Slick Sweet Corn

Mrs. L. F. Davis of Omaha, Nebr., says the best way to clean sweet corn is this: Cut off the bottom; strip upward. You capture all the corn-silk and avoid any "wormy" part. Good trick to remember, with lots of good fresh corn ahead!

Alphabet Book-Ends

Toddler through with his blocks? Pick out eight blocks still in good condition. Glue four together for each book-end. (Repaint alphabet letters if you wish.) Give each book-end two or three coats of shellac. Nail a narrow piece of plywood from one book-end to the other. The "shelf" will look clever in a child's room, or your family room.

Beating Heat

Takes just a few steaming July days to remind us we vowed last year to do something about indoor temperatures this year! One wonderful year-around solution: A combination gas heating and air conditioning system. Your home is cool in Summer, warm in Winter. Temperatures even (temper, too) all year! Tomorrow — while you're mopping your brow — talk things over with your local gas company or gas heating contractor.

Leftover Fowl

Grace Knudsen of Omaha, Nebr., has a way with leftover chicken or turkey: Simmer  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter with 2 Tbsp. chopped green pepper and 1 cup sliced mushrooms. When pepper's tender, blend in 3 Tbsp.

flour. Slowly add 2 cups milk, stirring 'til blended. Add  $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. salt and  $\frac{1}{8}$  tsp. pepper with 2  $\frac{1}{2}$  cups diced cooked fowl. Stir over low heat to boiling. Add 1 beaten egg yolk, 2 Tbsp. fine-cut pimento and  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup blanched almonds. Cook and stir two minutes more, then pour over steamed white rice. Six people will praise you!

No-Stick Spuds

You can reheat mashed potatoes right on top of your new gas range! Thermosatically-controlled top burners prevent foods from burning or sticking. Just dial a temperature of 150 and put spuds in a covered saucepan. Stir 'em occasionally; heat about 25 minutes. You'll find many other advantages, too, in new gas ranges now on display at your local gas company or gas appliance dealer.

Bountiful Supply

I smile when someone asks, "Won't we eventually run out of natural gas?" No, ma'am. This clean, safe, economical fuel is here to stay! Our grandchildren and their grandchildren will use it. For instance, the present gas reserves of Northern Natural Gas Company, the pipeline company that brings natural gas to your town and your local gas company, would fill 3,132,000,000 average freight cars. Use more natural gas. It's as sure as sunshine.

U.S. Agent Says Apalachin Meet Like A Mafia Convention

Senate Probers Take Testimony

Washington (AP) — A secret agent for the Federal Narcotics Bureau testified the mysterious gathering last fall of racketeers at Apalachin, N.Y., bore earmarks of a Mafia black hand convention.

The testimony came from Martin F. Pera, a 10-year veteran of the Narcotics Bureau, as the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee launched public hearings on an alleged crime syndicate operating in this country.

"The Apalachin meeting followed the Mafia pattern," Pera said. He described the alleged secret criminal society as one ruled by a grand council in this country and in Sicily, its reputed birth place. He said it commands an Army of hoodlums who may win rewards for such missions as an efficient murder.

Pera said the Narcotics Bureau's investigations indicate the Mafia has made a concerted effort to penetrate the labor-management relations field.

More Testimony

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, told reporters he will ask Pera to expand on this when the witness resumes his testimony Tuesday.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), committee chairman, said at the start of the hearing the nation's economy may be in peril from what he termed a massive infiltration of businesses and labor unions by gangsters and racketeers.

"There exists in America today," McClellan said, "what appears to be a clandestine criminal syndicate."

The committee is striving to show whether this is part of the sinister Mafia operation.

Business Fronts

Black hand or otherwise, McClellan said, there exists a criminal syndicate in this country, masking its operations behind the respectable fronts of business and labor union operations. He said it uses the businesses as a convenient screen to conceal the true source of its revenues from narcotics, gambling and prostitution rackets.

As the starting point for hearings in which McClellan said he will call "figures in the national criminal hierarchy" as witnesses, the committee chose the Apalachin meeting. This was a gathering the police raided last November. They rounded up 60 men, many of them known mobsters, who insisted to the skeptical law they had assembled only to visit a sick friend.

New York state police Sgt. Edgar G. Crowell, who led the raiding party, said the sick friend turned out to be the meeting's host — Joseph Barbara Sr., who Crowell described as a former Pennsylvania hoodlum.

Investigation Of Goldfine Probe 'Out Of Order'

Washington (AP) — A Republican-backed attempt to investigate the investigation of the Adams - Goldfine case failed Monday in the House.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas ruled out of order a resolution proposed by Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.). It called for appointment of a special 3-member committee to determine whether the rules of the House had been violated by the Harris subcommittee inquiring into Adams-Goldfine matters.

Curtis contended the subcommittee publicly aired testimony tending to defame, degrade or incriminate, without first determining the nature of the testimony in executive session.

'Pessimistic' Law Freshman Haessler Gets Perfect Marks

For John Haessler of Leshara, who calls himself an "eternal pessimist," the news that he made all 9s (perfect grade) for his freshman work in the University of Nebraska's College of Law came as quite a surprise.

It certainly wasn't commonplace for the college either. According to the records, this is the 1st time in its history that a freshman has pulled down all perfect grades.

John, 22, who is spending the summer working on a farm near Leshara, wasn't aiming for the 9s.

A Phi Beta Kappa, John

isn't by any stretch of the imagination a "grind" and his theory about all school work is to do a little studying day to day and not to "cram" before exams.

His major interests are sports and politics.

As an undergraduate he studied political science which helped provide a background for discussing—or arguing—politics.

He was active in intramural sports, especially football, and was a member of the state doubles tennis championship team at Valley High School. Is he aiming for all 9s again next year?

"I should say not," he says kiddingly. "It makes you too unpopular."

John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Haessler of Leshara.

Georgia Governor Tightens His Hold On National Guard

Atlanta (AP)—Gov. Marvin Griffin issued an executive order Monday intended to prevent National Guardsmen from carrying out orders of the federal government unless he approves.

The order apparently would prevent use of guardsmen by the federal government in enforcing Federal Court orders for school integration in Georgia, as was done in Little Rock.

Griffin handed newsmen a brief announcement of his executive order which stated:

"That no order, command or directive from the government of the United States or any officer thereof to the militia of the state of Georgia will be obeyed until the governor of Georgia certifies in writing to the adjutant general of the state of Georgia that such order, command or directive is constitutional."

Bragan Back in Baseball -- Spokane Of PCL

Spokane (P)—Bobby Bragan, fired last week by the Cleveland Indians for "not getting enough out of his players," was hired Monday by a lesser Tribe which discharged its chief for the same reason.

The Spokane Indians of the Pacific Coast League fired Goldie Holt as manager and picked up the brash Bragan on the rebound after dealing first with Joe Gordon, his successor at Cleveland.

Spencer Harris, general manager of the Spokane club, said Gordon agreed last week to take Holt's job here, then called back to say he couldn't do it—Bragan was being bounced and he was going to Cleveland.

Harris then signed Bragan, well known in the Pacific Coast League as a fiery pilot and sometime clown who can win minor pennants in the West.

Holt, 54, a veteran of 35 years in the game, had been on the pan for weeks here. The grandstand gallery rode him hard as the Indians skidded deep in the PCL second division, now 14 games behind in seventh place.

Harris and the parent Los Angeles Dodgers defended him through the first volleys and said he would stay. The Dodgers apparently felt they have a good thing here. The city and county built a new $500,000 stadium for the team and Spokane is leading the minor leagues in attendance. But the Dodgers gave in and dismissed Goldie in Phoenix.

Harris said injuries to key players and inability of others to produce for Holt necessitated a change. That had a familiar ring to Bragan.

"Bobby wasn't getting out of the Cleveland club what he might have gotten despite injuries to key men," said General Manager Frank Lane in giving dismissal notice last Thursday.

Like Gordon, who managed Sacramento in 1951 and 1952, Bragan has had teams in the PCL. He won the pennant with Hollywood in 1953 and was first with Fort Worth in the Texas League in 1949.

In direct contrast to Holt, Bragan was big with the PCL crowds. Once he sent up nine straight pinch hitters to irritate umpires. He was fast and colorful in rhubarbs and once rolled on the ground to protest a decision.

Bragan, who will be 41 in October, broke into the National League as a shortstop with Philadelphia and then joined the Dodgers as a catcher after World War II. He was sent to manage the Dodgers' Fort Worth farm club in 1948.

He managed the Pittsburgh Pirates in two straight seventh-place finishes before being hired at Cleveland last year.

"We are very happy to have Bobby back in the Dodger organization," Harris said. "If I had my pick of all the managers in baseball it would be him."

Bragan is due today to handle the team in the opening game of a series with Sacramento. Holt, who displayed no bitterness at the turn of events, said he is going fishing but plans to stay in baseball somewhere.

Bosox' Jensen Takes HR Lead ... 14 In June Boost Total To 23

New York (P)—Boston's Jackie Jensen has powered his way into the American League home run lead with a June spree that has also enabled him to equal his entire output for 1957 and close in on his career high.

The slugging Red Sox' outfielder has wallowed 14 homers this month, giving him 23 in 69 games. Jensen had 23 circuit blows in 145 games last season. Jackie's major league high is 26 in 1955.

The home run record for one month is 18 by Rudy York of Detroit in 1937. Jensen, 31-year-old San Francisco native, also has taken over the circuit's runs batted in lead from Bob Cerv of Kansas City. Jensen drove in 10 tallies last week, boosting his aggregate to 60. Cerv has 58, up three from last week.

Jensen shows a .300 batting mark, the same percentage owned by teammate Ted Williams. The veteran Williams has 11 home runs and 35 RBIs.

Another veteran, Mickey Vernon of Cleveland, collected only four hits in 23 times at bat last week and lost the batting lead to Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox.

Vernon dropped 25 points to .327 while Fox, with eight safeties in 27 tries, fell four points but took over first place with .332.

Preston Ward of Kansas City remained in third place despite a three-point drop to .326. Vic Power of Cleveland moved into fourth position at .323.

In the National League, Stan Musial of St. Louis closed to within 10 points of pace-setting Willie Mays of San Francisco.

Mays slumped 11 points to .369 with an 8-for-29 performance while Musial lost one point to .359 with 11-for-31. Alvin Dark of Chicago held onto the No. 3 spot at .338 although he was far off his sizzling pace of two weeks ago. Dark had only six hits in 24 trips and fell 11 points.

The records include Sunday's games.

By hitting two homers, Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh lengthened his home run lead over Chicago's Ernie Banks. Thomas now has 22, four more than Banks, who failed to connect last week.

Chief's Grounder Beats Des Moines

Des Moines (P)—Manuel Javier's grounder skipped between the legs of shortstop Bob Aspromonte to give Lincoln a 6-5 victory over Des Moines in 12 innings Monday night.

Eddie Sada opened the twelfth with a scratch single off the glove of third baseman Don Le John and was sacrificed to second by Dave Wickersham, the winning pitcher.

Aspromonte's error came on the next play. On the play after that, Aspromonte suffered a severe gash in his right leg when he was spiked by the stealing Javier. He was taken off the field on a stretcher and sent to a hospital.

Des Moines filled the bases with one out in the last of the twelfth but Tom Harkness rapped into a double play.

Wickersham had retired 17 Dodgers in order before Ron Fairly was safe on an error by Buddy Pritchard. Roy Hartsfield singled and, after Fran Boniar's bunt forced Fairly at third, Le John's single loaded the bases.

Des Moines scored off Wickersham in the sixth for a 5-3 lead after he replaced starter Bill Dial. Hal Holderfield singled, took third on another single by Fairly. The Chiefs caught Fairly in a rundown, but let Holderfield score in the process.

Lincoln pulled even in the seventh on Earl Packler's sacrifice fly and Sada's single after a walk to Marcos Cobos and a single by Stan Malec.

A walk, Tony Washington's double and Malec's bunt single gave the Chiefs two runs first and Wooton wildpitched another home in the fifth.

Southpaw Don Burt stopped Hastings on five hits while posting the shutout for his 3rd win of the season.

Bill Redmond put the Optimists into a 1-0 lead in the 2nd by reaching base on an error after striking out, advancing to second on a walk to Lyle Porter, stealing third and then coming home on Gary Mouden's infield bouncer.

Bobbie Gettman tripped to deep center for the one Lincoln hit and scored on a wild pitch for an insurance tally in the 3rd.

Burt walked only 2 and fanned 13 in checking Hastings.

STANDIN' BY

With Ron Speer
Star Sports Staff Writer

Two weeks on an island in the middle of Lake of the Woods in Canada is quite an experience for a young fellow reared in the Nebraska Sand Hills.

The fish were biting better than the mosquitos, the motor never stopped, host and guide Gregg Eklund of Osceola got us lost but once and the fellow Nebraskans on the lake were very gracious and friendly.

But I left Canada with one regret—I never did get into the Ladies Pub in Kenora, Ontario.

Pubs, or beer parlors as they are called in the States, are segregated in Canada. Women never are allowed in the men's pub, and men aren't allowed in the women's—without a lady friend.

And try as I could, I never was able to find a Canadian lady willing to show me the inside of the mysterious women's pub.

I spent a lonely two hours outside the door one afternoon in a vain effort to crash the barrier, but never made it.

You've had your last chance, Canada. Next time I'll bring my own escort.

Incidentally, so many Nebraskans have established cabins and homes in Ptarmigan Bay 18 miles out in Lake of the Woods that the natives have renamed the lengthy stretch of water Nebraska Avenue.

Among the Cornhuskers on the lake are the Ray Howerters and Ken Wilmarths of Omaha, the Al Marquards of Tekamah, the Bob Marquards of Lincoln, the Ned Tysons and Gil Potadles of Herman and Dr. H. S. Eklund of Osceola, who loaned us his cabin.

Returning to the windy heat of Nebraska after a sojourn in the wilds of Canada was a little tough to take. But the first duty handed me on my return was to cover the Women's City Golf Tournament, and that was pure pleasure.

This year's meet was the best I've seen in the past three years. It was a dandy. Dorothy Schwartzkopf, the new champ, and former queen Jean Hyland, are two of the nicest gals you'll ever meet.

Following them in the final match at Pioneers (the course, incidentally, is in great shape) was a gallery of more than 100. And the fans were treated to some great golf, probably the best displayed by Lincoln women in recent years.

It would be hard to find a better winner and champion than Jean Hyland. But she proved she also was a gracious loser when Dorothy defeated her on the 19th hole.

Mrs. Schwartzkopf, one of the most popular golfers in Lincoln and a lady who has greatly improved her game in the past year, will wear the crown well.

Closed TV Only For Fight Between Patterson, Harris

New York (P)—Tele-Prompter Corp. Monday bought the closed circuit theater television rights for the heavyweight championship fight between Floyd Patterson and Roy Harris for a minimum guarantee of $210,000.

Tele-Prompter is aiming at a gross in Patterson excess of $1,000,000 with an undisclosed percentage going to the fight promotion. There will be no network television of the fight, set for Aug. 18 in Los Angeles, and radio rights have not been granted as yet. Theater television will be blacked out within 75 miles of Los Angeles.

Promoter William P. Rosensohn, until two weeks ago a vice president of Tele-Prompter, is scaling the fight with tickets at $30, $20, and $10, and general admissions at $5.

"This will be a class promotion," said Rosensohn, a slender, earnest man who is making his debut as a fight promoter.

Braves' Win Keeps Margin Over Cards

Milwaukee (P)—The Milwaukee Braves concentrated their scoring with ten hits in two innings Monday night, wallowing Cincinnati 9-2 as Warren Spahn became the first National League pitcher with 10 victories this season.

Spahn, who now has a 10-4 record in 1958, built his career record against the Redlegs to 48 victories against 15 losses. It was his 234 victory in the National League.

The seasoned southpaw allowed the Redlegs six hits and one walk.

The Braves kept their 2½ game lead over the second place St. Louis Cardinals, who defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Braves got all but two of their hits in the fourth and fifth innings, scoring four runs in the fourth and five in the next inning.

The losing pitcher, starter Bob Purkey, gave up five hits in 3½ innings as he suffered his fifth loss against eight victories.

The Cardinals scored a run without a hit on a walk, a wild pitch and shortstop Don Zimmer's throwing error, in the third. Musial doubled to drive home Blasingame in the fifth.

McDaniel had a shaky start. But Zimmer's single, a walk and a run-scoring single by Jim Gilliam in the second, and John Roseboro's homer in the fifth were all the Dodgers could make of their seven hits.

New Fiscal Year Catches Uncle Sam With His Income Down

Debt Headed For Record

Washington (AP)—The turn of the fiscal year at midnight Monday night found Uncle Sam with his income down, his spending up, and his total debt headed toward the highest figure in history.

More and bigger deficit spending loomed ahead for fiscal 1959, bringing with it new inflationary pressure and damaging the prospect for any substantial tax relief next year or soon thereafter.

In a few weeks the administration will ask Congress to boost the federal debt ceiling for the second time this session. Some officials indicated a new temporary ceiling of 290 billion dollars may be sought. The earlier 5 billion dollar boost brought it to 280 billion.

The widening gap between income and outgo in the new fiscal year—now estimated by high officials at around 11 billion dollars, or possibly even close to 12 billion—makes substantial new Treasury borrowings inevitable. Some believe the deficit won't be that large, but nevertheless the federal debt's considered certain to pass the high water mark of $280,821,000,000 reached in December 1955.

High administration sources estimate that a deficit of 2 1/2 to 3 billion dollars will have been rolled up for fiscal 1958 when all the paid bills are counted.

No Overs That is just an estimate; it will take a fortnight or longer to complete the bookkeeping. And nobody's guess on fiscal 1959 can be considered very reliable until Congress stops passing laws and making appropriations.

But the trend of higher spending and lagging receipts is unmistakable. Originally President Eisenhower told Congress that 1958 would bring his third balanced budget in a row.

His plans were spoiled by the business recession and the race to catch up with Russian advances in rocket age weaponry. By last January the predicted surplus had changed into a 400 million-dollar deficit, and now the red ink is measured close to 3 billion.

N.Y. Bell Captain Is Impressed By Russian Manners

New York (AP)—"Their behavior was beyond reproach," said Marty, the bell captain at the Claridge Hotel in Times Square. He spoke of 88 Russians of the Moiseyev Dance Ensemble leaving for Moscow after 11 weeks in America.

Marty was summing up the impressions made on the Claridge staff by this largest group of Soviet citizens ever to visit America en masse. The hotel employees probably have been seen more of these Russians than any Americans. Millions of American viewers saw them dancing on TV Sunday night but Marty's view was intimate and different.

"Never once did they get out of the elevator without saying thank you to the elevator girls," Marty said.

"Never once did they ask for their key at the desk without saying thank you when they received it."

"One strange thing about them—none of them drank a thing."

Ike Signs Freight Tax Cut

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower signed a bill Monday repealing the 3% tax on freight shipments but extending for another year the wartime tax rates on corporate income and a wide range of consumer goods.

Elimination of the tax on rail, road, air and water shipments will cost the government half a billion dollars a year in revenue.

But continuation of the 52% rate on corporate incomes, the 10% tax on passenger travel and excises on new autos, automotive accessories, cigarettes, whisky, wines and beer will yield an extra $2,115,000,000.

All the rates would have dropped Tuesday, the start of a new fiscal year, in the absence of extension legislation.

The bill was a Senate-House compromise, generally heeding Eisenhower's admonition to hold the line on taxes this year.

State Cigaret Tax Revenue Up $1 Million

Cigarette taxes yielded nearly $5 million in revenue to Nebraska during the fiscal year which ended Monday. H. L. Wichman, chief of the State Agriculture Department's Cigarette Tax Division, has reported.

The total topped by more than a million dollars the revenue in the previous fiscal year—thanks to the 1c increase in tax per package.

The tax rate climbed from 3 to 4c a package last Sept. 20 by mandate of the 1957 Legislature.

June collections totaled $490,109, to bring the fiscal year total to $4,967,087. This was $1,038,328 higher than the $3,928,759 total for the previous fiscal year.

In June of last year, before the tax increase took effect, collections totaled $334,763.

Expense Reports Of 3 Candidates Still Not Filed

The number of primary election candidates who have failed to file campaign expense statements with the secretary of state dwindled Monday to 3.

Latest expense reports came from W. L. Hawkins, Peetz, Colo., candidate for Director of the Wheat Belt Public Power District, and Paul Kurtz, Scottsbluff, candidate for director of the Roosevelt Rural Public Power District. Both candidates reported spending only the $10 filing fee.

Still awaited were the expense statements of Niels Kammersgaard of Kimball, legislative nominee; William W. Jurgensen of Omaha, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination as lieutenant governor, and Sterling Swanson of Syracuse, nominee for director of the Eastern Nebraska Public Power District.

Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck said he had sent letters to county attorneys in the counties in which the delinquent candidates reside, advising them to contact the candidates.

"What action is deemed appropriate will be taken in the near future," he said, but declined to elaborate.

Kimball Producing Over Half Of Nebraska Oil

'57 Output Valued At $31,127,400

Kimball, Neb. (P)—Kimball County now is producing more than half of all the oil in Nebraska according to comparisons made recently.

County Assessor Ida Bradt said 1957 production was valued

Nebraska News

ued at $31,127,400, a gain of almost $11 million over 1956.

In the 7 years since the Torgeson No. 1 well was completed to inaugurate oil production in the county 1,681 holes have been drilled, of which 794 were producers and 887 dry holes.

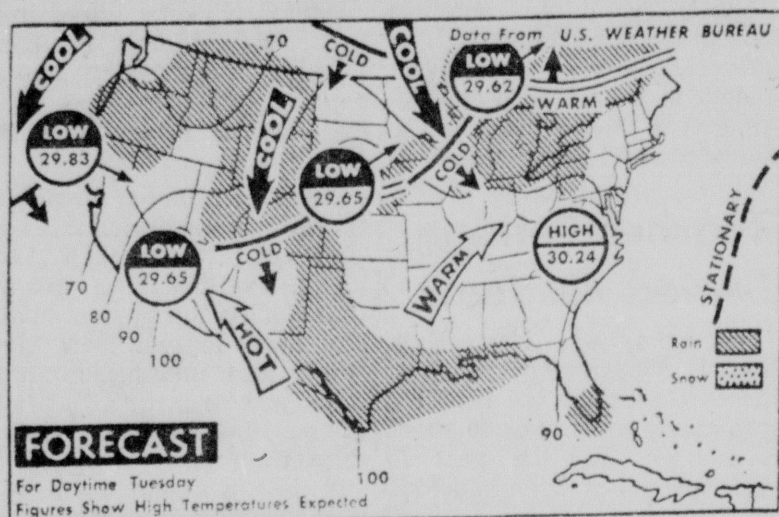

This year wildcat operations have been the most successful of any year to date. Eleven of the 55 wildcat venture have been producers, a ratio of one to five, which is regarded as remarkable.

As of March 1, 128 or 16.6% of the producers in the county had been abandoned.

Oil production in the county now is entering a new phase, that of secondary recovery. Water flooding operations are under way in 3 fields and work is starting to flood a fourth.

Through this method water is forced into the producing formation to flush the oil out of the reservoir into the producing wells.

REA Opposes Planned Dams For Ord Area

Ord, Neb.—A resolution of censure against the proposed plan of the Loup Public Power and Irrigation District was passed by directors of the local rural electrification district here.

The directors also authorized their attorney, John R. Sullivan, to take legal action, if necessary, to halt the Columbus group's proposed plan to build dams and reservoirs to flood Mira and Dane Creek valleys.

In the area to be flooded are 2 high voltage lines and one substation belonging to the local REA, the Loup Valley Rural Public Power District. Loup's RPPID requests for water storage rights on 15,000 acres in the Ord-North Loup area were filed 3 weeks ago.

The REA resolution called the power group's request "detrimental to the farmers of Valley County." About 100 REA's customers would be eliminated by the reservoirs.

Wisner Deaths Ruled Accidental Shooting, Suicide

West Point, Neb. (P)—Cumming County Attorney Robert D. Moodie said Monday there appeared to be no question but the shotgun deaths of a Wisner farmer and his wife was a case of accidental shooting and suicide.

The victims were Lee Brockmeier, about 40, and his wife, Lavina, about 35, who were found shot to death at their farm home about eight miles southeast of Wisner Saturday.

Moodie said Brockmeier left a note saying his wife had been shot accidentally and that he "had no desire to live." Moodie said other evidence supported this and "unless something new turns up" his verdict will be "accidental death and suicide." He said there will be no inquest.

-Genoa Homes- Operator Requests Hearing

Corrective Steps
Taken—Dr. Rogers

Mrs. Christine Hoffmeister, operator of 2 homes for aged in Genoa, asked the State Health Department Monday for a formal hearing on license revocations ordered by the department.

Had not the hearing been asked, the revocations would have taken effect automatically 30 days after issuance of the June 19 orders.

Nebraska News

The license revocations had been ordered for Hill Top Manor and the Hoffmeister Home for the Aged on such grounds as the harboring of patients in excess of authorized maximum capacity, and lack of sanitation.

State health Director E. A. Rogers said Monday, however, that Mrs. Hoffmeister has taken corrective steps since the order was issued.

Health Department representatives who inspected the homes last Friday found that "very sincere efforts to comply with the requirements were being made," Dr. Rogers reported.

The patient load at one of the homes had been reduced to licensed capacity and arrangements were being made to transfer excess patients from the other, Dr. Rogers said.

As a result, the hearing may never be held, he suggested.

The hearing would be held only if the Health Department felt it still necessary to have the licenses revoked, he explained. But in this case, he said, "it looks like full compliance will be achieved."

Water-Flood Plan Slated For Wells In Kimball County

Kimball, Neb. (P) — Pan-American Petroleum Corp. has announced unitization of the Sloss-State field in Kimball County, effective July 1. The resulting water-flood program will be one of the largest areawise undertaken in the Denver-Julesburg basin to date.

63 Nations To Attend

Tokyo (P) — The 14th World Convention on Christian Education will be held here starting Aug. 6. More than 2,000 persons from 63 nations are expected to attend, Japanese sponsors said.

Water flooding and other secondary recovery methods are particularly important for fields in the Denver-Julesburg basin where oil producing rates often decline due to oil reservoir characteristics. Generally, productive sands are thin, small in area, lenticular in structure — lens shaped — and isolated from any large area natural water drive forces.

Under water flooding, water is pumped down "input wells" under pressure and injected into the oil producing reservoir. As water is injected it forms a "flood" front, advances through the formation and pushes the oil ahead of it to strategically located producing wells.

At Sloss, the initial water flood plan calls for the conversion of about 10 of the 87 producing wells to injection wells. The estimated injection daily rate is 5,000 barrels of water.

Castro Kidnap Total Now 41

2 MORE YANKEES GRABBED

... By Cuban Rebels

Havana (AP) — Two more Americans were kidnapped by Fidel Castro's rebels Monday, boosting the total now held by insurgents to 41 Americans and 3 Canadians.

Two U.S. consular officials were striving in rebel mountain country of eastern Cuba to free the prisoners. One official made contact with rebel leaders, but was reported awaiting word from the insurgent high command on their release.

U.S. Embassy sources in Havana indicated the 2 officials might have some report on the missing men by Tuesday.

While the rebel kidnap campaign went on, there were reports of a new flareup of violence by the dissident forces seeking to overthrow Cuban President Fulgencio Batista.

Dispatches from Cienfuegos on Cuba's south coast said 8 rebels and 2 soldiers were killed in a clash in that area Saturday. Several soldiers were reported wounded.

Another report said a rebel band surprised an Army detachment in a ravine on a farm near Guantanamo and killed a lieutenant and 5 soldiers. Six other soldiers were wounded.

Working for the release of the North American hostages were U.S. Consul Park Wollam and U.S. Vice Consul Robert Wiecha. Wollam was in contact with rebels in northeast Cuba seeking to free the first Americans and Canadians seized last week.

It was disclosed that Wiecha had gone into the hills around Guantanamo to contact rebels for the release of Guantanamo naval base personnel men in rebel hands. There was no word that he had made contact. Wiecha is vice consul at Santiago.

65 Yanks Held

Washington (AP) — With the seizure of 2 more U.S. citizens by Cuban rebels Monday, there are now at least 65 Americans being held against their will in various parts of the world.

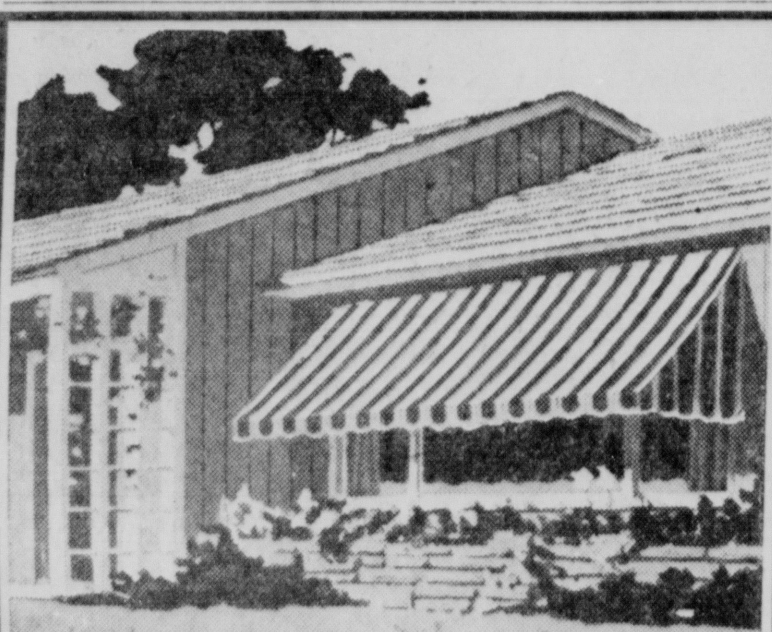

Fidel Castro's rebels have 41 of the prisoners, according to the latest State Department figures. The other 22 are being detained in Communist countries—9 each in Soviet Armenia and East Germany and 4 in Red China.

JUNE HAD ITS USUAL EFFECT ON MARRIAGES

The recession apparently had little effect on June marriages in Lancaster County.

A check of the county marriage license bureau in Lancaster County Court showed 158 marriage licenses were issued during June, compared with 165 in June of 1957.

During June of 1956, 175 marriage licenses were issued. In June, 1955, it was 170, in June, 1954 it was 159 and during June, 1953, 163 licenses were issued.

ROBERT BRISCOE

Woman Beats Out Briscoe

... For Lord Mayor

Dublin (AP) — The unpredictable Irish did it again.

Two years ago they elected a Jew as lord mayor of Dublin — often known as the world's most Catholic capital.

Monday night they elected a Scots-born widow, slight, graying Mrs. Catherine Byrne. She is a Roman Catholic.

"This is the biggest shock I have ever had in all my life," she gasped, breathless with excitement and weighted down as the heavy chain of office was draped over her shoulders.

Mrs. Byrne won on the 4th ballot in the City Council voting after a neck-and-neck race with Robert Briscoe, a leader of the Jewish community who was mayor 2 years ago.

Mrs. Byrne is in her late 50s and has 2 grown daughters. She polled 23 votes to 17 for Briscoe, who ran as the nominee of Prime Minister Eamon De Valera's Fianna Fail Party.

The outgoing mayor, James Carroll, 52, an independent, sought re-election, but was never a serious contender.

In Good Spirit

Briscoe took his defeat in the same good spirit that won him many American friends when he toured the United States first as lord mayor and later as ex-lord mayor.

"You won fairly," he told the little widow. "There will be no recriminations and no hard feelings. You are assured of the support of all of us in the discharge of the heavy duties you now assume."

Aid Bill Signed

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower signed a bill authorizing a $3,675,592,500 foreign aid program for the fiscal year.

His action paved the way for House consideration of a bill providing financing for the program at a rate of $597,000,000 less than that authorized. The amount actually appropriated eventually will determine the size of the program.

Home For Children Head Sees Big Job

By Don Walton

"We've got a real big job to do," Robert M. Rudell, newly appointed superintendent of the Home for Children in Lincoln, said Monday night on the eve of his new assignment.

Rudell, 32, former associate warden at the State Penitentiary, takes over his new post Tuesday.

Enthusiastic about his new task and, at the same time, admittedly concerned over "the big job ahead," the new superintendent will initiate a series of weekly staff meetings Tuesday morning when he will introduce his family and explain his "philosophy" of handling children to staff members.

Get Acquainted

Rudell will then tour the home, "look everything over" and acquaint himself better with the home's personnel.

"We want to develop more of a father-mother relationship," the Minneapolis, Minn., native said. "We realize that some of the children are not 'placeable,' some because of physical incapacities. We want to make a real home for them."

Rudell said he has received "excellent co-operation" from members of the Board of Control which appointed him to the post last April.

During the 90 days since his appointment was announced, Rudell has traveled to private agencies over the state, visited with staff members at the State Welfare Dept., and discussed plans with various University of Nebraska faculty members and interested individuals, he said.

Make Everyone Proud

"We're going to make everyone proud of the home," he promised.

Some 78 children now live at the home at 5701 Walker. Rudell attended schools in Minneapolis and graduated from North Central College and Seminary in May, 1947.

In 1953, he became associated with the Board of Control, assuming a position in the welfare department at the Penitentiary.

He was later appointed Penitentiary chaplain and held this position until Oct., 1955, when he was appointed associate warden responsible for the classification and treatment program.

Previously, he had served 2 churches in southern Minnesota and in 1952-53, he worked with the Lancaster County Relief Dept., as a case worker.

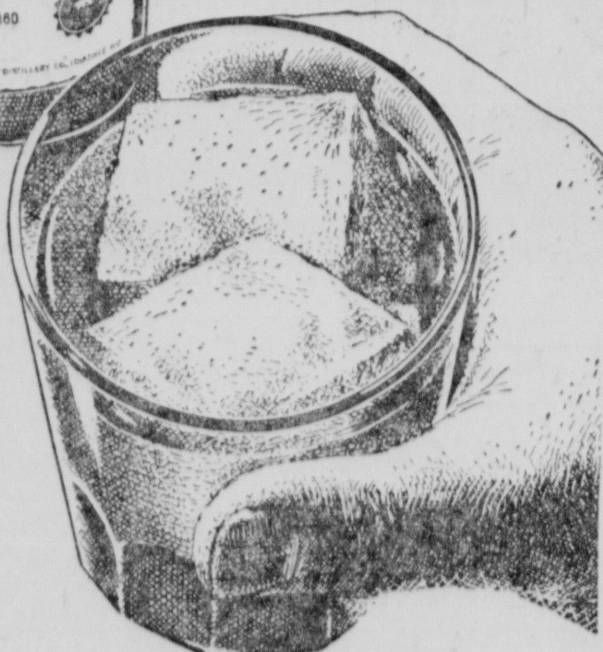

He is married and has one daughter.

Rudell succeeds W. A. Lerner, who resigned.

Lebanese Rebels Nearing Capital

... Federals, Tribesmen Fight See-Saw Battle

Beirut, Lebanon (AP) — Government forces and mountain tribesmen fought a see-saw battle in the hills overlooking Beirut Monday after the rebels drove closer to the capital than ever before.

Followers of young rebel leader Kamal Jublani made a surprise dawn push into hills between Chemlan and Kayfoun, only 5 miles from Beirut International Airport.

Government forces counter-attacked with jet planes, armored cars and 81mm artillery. The rebels, apparently shaken by the heavier firepower, fell back from 2 hills.

Security troops surrounded a 4-story building that had been turned into a fortress and the insurgents inside came out with their hands up.

Driven Back

Rebels on another hill then swept across the valley in an attempt to relieve their comrades. They were driven back by machine guns and mortar fire.

Irregulars helping the security forces blocked roads and approaches to Kayfoun and Chemlan to choke off the rebel advance.

Queen Elizabeth Inspects Coal Mine

Roths, Scotland (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II donned white coveralls, black rubber boots and a helmet Monday and went down a coal mine.

With her husband, Prince Philip and lady-in-waiting, the Countess of Euston, the Queen descended about 1,700 feet in an elevator.

Then she walked 3-quarters of a mile to watch miners heaving a seam of coal and loading it on a conveyor belt. She splashed through puddles and was pelted by water dripping from the roof.

Man Wanted On Ogallala Arson Charge Arrested

Ogallala, Neb. (AP) — A man wanted here on a first degree arson charge has been arrested near Corpus Christi, Tex., and is to be returned to Nebraska.

Identified as George Emerson Hart, 62, he is charged in a warrant issued in connection with a fire Sept. 26, 1955, which damaged an ice cream stand here.

Hart was arrested in May of 1956 at Vermillion, S. D. He waived extradition and pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing and was freed on $10,000 bond. He failed to appear for trial during the October, 1956, term of District Court.

Allowance Hiked

Washington (AP) — The House took official cognizance of "the economic facts of life—the increase in the cost of living," by raising veterans' burial allowances.

It sent to the Senate by voice vote a bill raising from $150 to $250 the burial allowance paid by the government for funeral expenses of deceased war veterans.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

The other afternoon being a warm and cheerful Sunday, we all drove over to attend the Ice Follies.

This refrigerated and musical spectacle is an annual event in our town.

In a way, it has replaced the circus of my own youth — though how can you replace the billowing big tent? The gaudy red-and-gold lion cage? The great, gray elephants who nozzled up your peanuts, right out of your hand!

Anyway, we attended the Ice Follies, the 3-year-old boy for his first time.

He was all dressed up in one of those round-hat outfits. The kind they sell in stores because everybody says: "Doesn't he look CUTE!" And a boy at that age has no judgment.

The house lights darkened. The music started. And wonderful people in wonderful costumes came out and began to skate around.

I should report that it was very successful — as successful, I guess, as the circuses I remember. The boy does not talk much. But I think he will remember something like this:

We had clowns on ice who came over and waved at us. (We waved back.)

When people skated close, they sent up a little spray of ice. Tasted good.

A whole bunch of live poodle dogs ran around on the ice. We let out several piercing screams of delight. People turned around and looked at us.

Our father got us a bag of popcorn. Delicious. He said: "Can I have some?"

We searched around in the bag and found one piece, not very well buttered and a little wrinkled. We gave it to him.

He said: "Thank you." Then he ate it. He said: "That boy will probably be rich."

As near as I could tell, this child was most impressed by the clowns. Especially when they hit each other with a slapstick that went BANG! (I seem to recall the same joy in such mayhem at one time.)

There were quite a few children down in the front section. And as the show got merrier, with hundreds of people skating, they sort of drifted down the aisles. Until they were all hanging over the ice.

In one number, several children were lifted over the edge and towed around the ice on rocking horses.

This was fine for the children on the rocking horses. But the ones who were left in the audience let out terrible cries of frustration. One small girl next to us had to be removed to the ladies' room for repairs.

The children who got off the rocking horses got small presents.

The boy in front of us got a small stuffed bear. When my own son observed this injustice, he threw three long looping right hands at the kid. But was too short to connect.

He glowered at this child throughout the show. And I had to keep one hand hooked in his belt.

I think this about covers the report. The show lasted two hours. We ate two bags of popcorn and three hot dogs — my daughter accounted for a fair share of this.

There was one man on stilts who skated. And another who walked on his hands.

There were several people dressed like bears. (Just like the bear the boy in front of us got, cuss him.)

The bears skated around the ice, just like people.

One of the bears came over and shook hands with us! I have fed elephants peanuts. And once I shied a rock at the lion in the lion cage. But I never shook hands with a bear! You cannot top that.

STATE'S OIL, GAS TAX REVENUE CLIMBS SHARPLY DURING JUNE

Severance tax revenue collected in Nebraska in June climbed sharply as a result of stepped up oil production during May.

Severance tax collections on oil and natural gas totaled $98,163 for the month, compared with $78,420 the previous month and $91,947 in June of last year, according to the monthly report of Elmer Watkins, chief of the State Agriculture Department's Severance Tax Division.

The revenue goes for school purposes. Nebraska produced 1,644,362 barrels of crude oil in May, compared with 1,304,104 in April. Natural gas production, however, dropped from 665,438,000 cubic feet in April, to 631,904,000 cubic feet in May.

The June revenue included $98,171 in taxes on oil, and $1,992 in taxes on oil, and gas.

Stocks Make 4th Straight Gain

New York (AP) — The stock market ran up its string of daily gains to four straight in active dealings Monday.

Key issues were ahead from fractions to a point or so. Some exceptions made wider gains. There was a scattering of losers.

Industrials carried the ball in the advance. Rails were mixed. Utilities barely nudged ahead on average, but made a new high for the year in so doing.

The over-all gain was moderate. Market background included the record total of construction orders for May and a pickup in defense purchases by the government. A showing of steel industry output and some uncertainty about the question of higher steel prices also were factors.

Of 1,185 issues traded, 581 rose and 269 fell. There were 113 new highs for the year and 3 new lows.

Volume was 2,800,000 shares compared with 2,600,000 on Friday.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced, and four declined. American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Volume was 1,010,000 shares compared with 870,000 on Friday.

BOND MARKET

New York (AP) — The bond market staged a modest advance Monday with yields trading much of the momentum.

Long-term U.S. government obligations held steady in quiet dealings over the counter. Bond trading on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $4,600,000 par value vs. $3,420,000 Friday.
